“ I am so sorry for your loss, no words can ease the pain of something like this, but I will say Andrew was one of the most genuine people I'd ever met. He was the type of friend who didn't even have to say anything to make you laugh, he just did. He was the first person to always show empathy and understanding to anothers pain. I remember he was the first person who ever made me feel accepted as who I am naturally. His love and impact he has made on everyone lives on & will never leave. Remembering and honoring his spirit and goodness is something that lasts forever.
