“ I write with a deep sense of loss. Deb and I began our friendship when last names caused us to be seated together in 9th grade. We had great fun in Hiking Club. Later in life, we took exercise classes and a trip to California. I was in her wedding, and she made my bridal shower memorable with a ribbon hat. She honored me when she asked me to be Lindsey's godmother. On visits, she might bring her aptly named Siamese "Pig" (no sly wit there!) and always cornflake cookies at Christmas.

So sorry for your loss Lindsey, Robert(Bobby) and Katie. May good memories comfort you, and in time return to smiles.

“ I was so sad to hear this news. Deb and I have worked closely together for the past few years. We were fortunate enough to gain her knowledge and leadership at ORPTS, and her accomplishments during that tenure were incredible. Her work ethic and dedication were unmatched, and she always kept us on our toes. She has my utmost respect despite the occasional....differences in opinions. I say that tongue in cheek because she was truly one of my favorite people to have ever worked with. Rest In Peace Deb. My heartfelt condolences to your family. You will be so greatly missed.

“ I had the pleasure of working with Deb for the past few years. She was an incredible manager, a loyal friend, and a fun person to be with. She was famous in the Tax Department for throwing amazing Halloween parties. But more so, she was known department-wide for being able to accomplish extremely complex projects. We miss her, and send our deepest condolences to her children and grandchildren.

“ My deepest condolences to Deb's family. You should be very proud of her. She was an incredible person. I worked with Deb for many years on various projects for the Department of Tax and Finance and she always put her heart into everything she worked on. She had a great impact on the programs we were able to provide to the taxpayers of New York State. May God be with you all.

“ Deb was a dearly loved friend. As my boss at work she had my deepest respect and admiration. Loved every minute working with her. Loved having fun at my timeshare. I was just going to let her know the dates for this years when I found out she wouldn't be able to come. I am devistated. My prayers and sympathy to you her family. May God bless and keep you in your time of hardship.

Deb and I always talked about our kids, you guys meant everything to her. The rest of our conversations at work even when things weren't going good always ended up in teasing and laughter. My condolences to all of you.
