“ Don was one of the teachers who brought me to Albany Academy 30 years ago. He was a mentor and friend. While always saying he could never teach younger children, I remember him working with my middle school students or visiting a lower school classroom with all the patience in the world. He had a talent of explaining the difficult in a manner that was simple. Don set a high example for others. He will be missed but fondly remembered.

Doc was a special teacher. I still remember him bringing me in to see the electron microscope as a 4th grader and being mesmerized by the beauty of images. He helped hook me on science and showed me the beauty that went along with the facts. I never had him in the classroom but he still made an impact.
