

George T. Butler

September 27, 1933 - October 29, 2012

TROY- George T. Butler, 79, died Monday, October 29, 2012 at Samaritan Hospital after a brief illness. Born in Troy, he was the son of the late George H. and Julia O'Keefe Butler. He was a veteran of the Korean war and had served on the Troy Police Force for over 30 years, retiring as a captain.

He is survived by his wife Hazel Neal Butler; father of Erin Livolsi (Brian), Debbie McNab (Craig) and the late George T. Butler Jr. and Danny Penders; grandfather of Jared and Audra Livolsi and Brock Evelith; brother of Sheila McVeigh (William), Richard K. Butler (Carolyn) and Michael J. (Sherri); beloved nephew of Helen Flanagan. Also survived by several nieces and nephews.

Relatives and friends may call at the Leahy Funeral Home, 336 Third St., Troy, Thursday from 2-4pm and are welcome to stay for a prayer service at 4:00pm.

Burial will take place the following day, Friday, at 10:30 am at the Gerald Solomon Saratoga National Cemetery.

Those wishing to remember George in a special way may send contributions to the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society, 5 computer Dr. West, Albany, NY 12205

Tribute Wall

“ George T. Butler

October 08, 2023 at 09:24 PM

“ Just like to say that you guys absolutely ROCK love the new album Cowgirl Lovin' !!!We are hnopig to get to a lot more of your gigs but it's not always easy to get away from the farm. Really enjoyed seeing you at The Song Factory at Royal Cricketers Arms Hotel too. Sorry we couldn't stay longer to listen to you guys after the rodeo last week would have loved to !!!! Hope to catch you soon !!! Great T-Shirts too##imported-begin##Vineeth##imported-end##

November 25, 2012 at 12:45 AM