growing up directly across the street from Lisa and her siblings;

We are so sorry for the loss of your Mother. Going back for more than 30 years at the camp, you were assured of meeting Lisa at the beach. She loved to read and sit in front of her camp with a wood fire no matter if the weather. Please accept our sincere Sympathy and Condolences.

“ I am sincerely sorry for your loss. Your mother and I went to McCloskey together. We reconnected when we had our 45th reunion. Since then we have been friends on FB. She had such courage during these last years and never complained... such a sweet person. Lisa loved her family and showed it in her postings. May you find comfort in remembering her love.
