

Marjorie A. "Marge" Delaney

December 31, 1920 - March 23, 2011

Albany - Marjorie A. "Marge" Delaney, 90, passed away on March 23, 2011. Born in Albany, N.Y., she was the daughter of the late John and Mary (Battle) Collins, and wife of William J. Delaney. Marge is survived by her sons, Joseph Delaney (Kathleen) and William Delaney (Jean). She is also survived by her grandchildren, Brendan, J.Connor, Shannon, Blair, and Jillian and her West Highland White Terrier, Maggie.

Marge loved Albany, knew the intimate details of its colorful history, and kept up with the goings on of "smallbany" for her whole life. She loved to dance and thought shopping was a recreational sport. She loved her NY Yankees and thought Joe Torre was their best manager. Marge worked for many years for "the telephone company" until her sons were born. She doted on her sons and was very involved with CBA while her sons were in attendance. When they grew up she was employed for a number of years by the State of New York, using her social skills to work with the public.

She will be remembered as a loving mother and as the grandmother who made the very best Eggos.

“ *Dear Bill and Joe, I am sorry I could not see you at this time, but I have been thinking of you. Though we did not see your mother often in later years, she was and remains an important touchstone in our lives when we think of the generation before us. I recall Marge's acumen and vigor and love of life, which we all enjoyed. I wish you and your families comfort, and I hope that your father is able to find peace in his life. “ Bill-

I am sorry for your loss. I know your Mom lived a full life and was very proud of you and your accomplishments.

Keeping you and your family in my thoughts and prayers.
