“ Raymond and I not only shared an Anniversary, but shared a friendship that spanned many, many years. He spoke of his family with such love and pride, it could hardly be contained. He knew the gift of how recovery connected him to his family in a way that brought him much joy and happiness.

Sorry to hear of the passing of my friend Tucker. One of my best boyhood friends. I lived on Brookside and Tucker would stay over and we would climb the fence on Pleasant Ave at midnight to go fishing for bullheads in the reservoir! Had some great conversations with Tucker when we would walk together to Brookside and Locust and he would walk home down Lyon St and I would return home by Brookside.....what a great friend! I spoke with him by phone recently and he was so proud of his family.....you are missed, amigo. My sincere condolences to his family.
