

Robert J. Tigue M.D.

August 31, 1961 - September 12, 2015

East Berne-Robert J. Tigue, M.D., 54, died Saturday, September 12, 2015 following a long illness. Born in Scranton, PA on August 31, 1961 to the late Dorothy Albrecht Tigue, he was a dedicated physician, loving soul mate and devoted father.

He was a graduate of Cornell University in Ithaca, NY and of Albany Medical College where he initially practiced as a board certified internist. He later practiced emergency medicine at many of the local hospitals before he retired from Bassett Healthcare System. Robert has a unique ability to listen to his patients and to provide them with great comfort in addition to his excellent medical care. He loved life and living and was always telling stories of his adventures.

In addition to being a dedicated physician, he held many other interests, including a love of trap and skeet shooting, kayaking, hiking and fishing in the beauty of the mountains and his most recent passion of vintage dirt bikes. His favorite way to spend a day was with his daughter Isabel. They walked hand-in-hand everywhere and could be counted on to have fun cooking, shopping, making their sea glass or reading a book together.

Robert was always dedicated to learning new things and loved when anyone introduced him to a new idea or way of looking at things.

He is survived by a long time devoted girlfriend, Jane Bujold of Altamont, NY, the absolute delight of his life, daughter Isabel Tigue of East Berne, NY and his beloved canine "Sunny".

Funeral services were held privately.

Donations may be made in his memory to the Isabel Tigue Education Fund, c/o Trustco Bank, Slingerlands Office, 1569 New Scotland Road, Slingerlands, NY 12159

“ This man will be missed by all who knew him. I first met Rob on the trap fields at Hendrick Hudson some 25 years ago. We had a great time whenever work allowed him to come. He was a great shot and a true sportsman. I suspect he will be greatly missed. I for one will.
