

Robert T. Hoffman

May 19, 1960 - July 28, 2012

Albany-Robert T. "Hoff" Hoffman, 52, died peacefully Saturday, July 28, 2012 surrounded by his beloved family after a courageous battle with an acute illness. Born in Albany, he was the dear son of Blanche Grasso Hoffman and the late Robert M. Hoffman, who passed away just 14 months ago.

Hoff was a graduate of Bishop Maginn High School, and attended Sage College. He was a consummate District Sales Manager for Emerson-Swan, Inc, and he was a member of A.S.P.E. Bob was an avid Grateful Dead fan, Harley Davidson enthusiast, and heck of a poker player!

He was the beloved father of Tyler R. Hoffman and Dylan T. Hoffman; dear brother of Cathy Campbell (Jay), Michael Hoffman (Patty) and Mark Hoffman; former husband of Cinde Dowse Hoffman; survived by many aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews and cousins.

The family would like to express a heartfelt thank you to Bob's coworkers and friends that visited him in the hospital, and a special thank you to St. Peter's Hospital ICU nursing staff for their compassionate care.

“ Bob was a very fine sales rep but most importantly he was my friend. When Bob came to visit we enjoyed sharing stories about family or motorcycle adventures etc... then we would eventually tend to business. Bob taught me what I needed to know about his products but what he really never realized was that he became my benchmark for other reps to live up to. I will miss him dearly! My prayers to Bob's family and dear friends.##imported-begin##Norm LaValley##imported-end##

“ So many fond memories of going to the Dead shows with Hoff at the wheel, laughing all the way. Barb and I concur that he was one of the kindest and most hilarious folks we have had the pleasure of knowing. Having trouble believing he has passed. Our hearts and prayers go out to the Hoffman family. Let us all celebrate the joy which Bob brought to our lives. We will get by, we will survive . . .##imported-begin##David Plume##imported-end##
