“ Sarah was my very best friend. A sister by choice. My heart is overwhelmed by the magnitude of this loss. I used to call her my cactus because of how prickly she could be on the outside but what beautiful life sustaining goodness she had on the inside. Sarah was there for me through my worst times. She brought so much light and love to my world. If love could have healed her, my sweet friend would still be here. I cannot imagine life without her. Miss and love you Sarah. Every minute. Every day. ❤️👍❤️👍

“ I worked with Sarah for nearly five years, and loved and respected her for her strength, honesty, persistence, integrity and her caring heart. She endured more than her share of hardships and disappointments. I am sorry she is gone, and hope that all of us who knew her can take inspiration from her life as we move forward. I know I will think of her often. My sympathy to her family on their loss.
