

William Tecumseh Conway Jr.

October 10, 1946 - July 18, 2014

Albany-William Tecumseh Conway Jr. ("Bill"), 67, died suddenly Friday, July 18, 2014 at home. Born in Albany, he was the son of the late William T. Conway Sr. and Florence Horne Conway.

Bill graduated from Albany Academy in 1964 and SUNY Albany in 1977. He had worked for the New York State Teachers Retirement System and New York State Comptroller's Office. Bill was an avid reader and enjoyed engaging others in spirited political debates. He also loved all things outdoors, particularly the Adirondacks and Ocean Beach, NJ, and was also known for his Irish wit and intelligence, especially in mathematics, physics and vocabulary. Bill took great pride in his children's educational, athletic and professional accomplishments.

He was the father of William T. Conway III (Devon), Nicole Michele Conway (Amy), Rylan Towne Conway and Sean Michael Conway; former husband of Marylee Towne Conway; loving grandfather of Riley Elizabeth Conway, William T. Conway IV, Brody James Conway and Weston Heinz Conway; brother of Susan Conway (David Golden), Kevin Conway (Lori), Catherine Frangella (Michael) and the late Margaret Conway; uncle of Cameron Conway and Zachary Frangella.

“ Dear Sue, Kevin and Cathy, I am so sorry to hear of Bill's death. Bill was my first childhood friend. We discovered each other through the backyard fence of his Quail St home and mine on Yates St. We were inseparable through 5th grade at St Vincent's until my family moved to Cardinal Ave. Bill and I saw each other often from 2003 -2010 when we both were working in downtown Albany. I remember how proud he was of his children's athletic and academic achievements. I think fondly of Bill often, especially recently for some unknown reason. I was shocked to learn of his death today. Go in peace my dear friend...
